About the Program

The Pennsylvania Bar Institute is proud to present the Fourth Annual Animal Law Conference. This program, begun in 2003, has grown in popularity and scope with each passing year. The 2007 presentation will feature entirely new topics and will explore not only the law as it applies to domestic animals, but will also examine issues related to wildlife, exotic animals and working animals.

The most FUN you'll ever have at a CLE seminar!

Visit with exhibitors and sponsors — meet the DOGS and CATS that rescues and shelters are trying to find homes for, buy animal merchandise and enjoy yourself!

Keynote Speaker

(Philadelphia only)

Gov. Edward G. Rendell

This year's Keynote Address at the Animal Law Conference will focus on Governor Ed Rendell's goal of eliminating Pennsylvania's reputation as a puppy mill state. We are honored to have Governor Rendell speak in Philadelphia ONLY and join Jessie L. Smith, Special Deputy Secretary, Dog Law Enforcement, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, to talk about his initiatives to more closely regulate and improve the dog breeding industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Governor Rendell will open the program in Philadelphia on August 28th. In Mechanicsburg and Pittsburgh, Ms. Smith will discuss her role in reforming the breeding regulations in Pennsylvania and the Governor's goals in this area. This promises to be one of the best Animal Law Conferences yet!

Other topics for this year's seminar are:

► The Law of Exotic Animals

An emerging field that is growing because of the illegal importation of so many exotic animals, this session will examine how an exotic animal is defined, why law enforcement is failing in this arena, and the unique legal challenges faced in trying to protect these animals.

► Equine Law

Learn about a host of issues related to horses — thoroughbred racing; horse auctions and sales; the Equine Activity Liability Act and much more. Get SAMPLE documents.

► The Veterinary Perspective on Legal Issues

Gain the opportunity to pose your questions to a panel of vets and get their insight on vet malpractice, peer review, reporting animal cruelty and other related matters.

► Hot Topics in Zoos

Examine the many laws that regulate their activities — the Animal Welfare Act, the Endangered Species Act, and more.

► Animals in Law Enforcement

Everyone knows that dogs are used by police departments, but the ever expanding role of animals in law enforcement and public safety will be explored in this session.

► International Animal Law: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly

This session will examine laws that protect animals and laws and policies that allow mistreatment of animals in other countries.
